Westminster, November 6.

HIS Majesty came this Day to the House of Peers, and being in His Royal Robes seated on the Throne with the usual Solemnity, Sir Septimus Robinson, Knt. Usher of the Black Rod, was sent with a Message from His Majesty to the House of Commons, commanding their Attendance in the House of Peers. The Commons being come thither accordingly, His Majesty was pleased to make the following most Gracious Speech.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

AT the Opening of the First Parliament, summoned and elected under My Authority, I with Pleasure take Notice of an Event, which has made Me compleatly happy, and given universal Joy to My loving Subjects. My Marriage with a Princess, eminently distinguished by every Virtue, and amiable Endowment, whilst it affords Me all possible domestick Comfort, cannot but highly contribute to the Happiness of My Kingdoms; which has been, and always shall be, My First Object in every Action of My Life.

It has been My earnest Wish, that this first Period of My Reign might be marked with another Felicity; the restoring of the Blessings of Peace to My People, and putting an End to the Calamities of War, under which so great a Part of Europe suffers. But though Overtures were made to Me, and My good Brother and Ally the King of Prussia, by the several Belligerant Powers, in Order to a general Pacification, for which Purpose a Congress was appointed; and Propositions were made to Me by France for a particular Peace with that Crown, which were followed by an actual Negotiation; yet that Congress hath not hitherto taken Place, and the Negotiation with France is entirely broken off.

The Sincerity of My Disposition to effectuate this good Work has been manifested in the Progress of it; and I have the Consolation to reflect, that the Continuance of the War, and the farther Effusion of Christian Blood, to which it was the Desire of My Heart to put a Stop, cannot with Justice be imputed to Me.

Our Military Operations have been in no Degree suspended or delayed; and it has pleased God to grant Us farther important Successes, by the Conquests of the Islands of Belleisle and Dominica; and by the Reduction of Pondichery, which hath in a Manner annihilated the French Power in the East Indies. In other Parts, where the Enemy's Numbers were greatly superior, their principal Designs and Projects have been generally disappointed, by a Conduct which does the highest Honour to the distinguished Capacity of My General Prince Ferdinand of Brunswick, and by the Valour of My Troops. The Magnanimity and Ability of the King of Prussia have eminently appeared, in resisting such numerous Armies, and surmounting so great Difficulties.

In this Situation, I am glad to have an Opportunity of receiving the truest Information of the Sense of My People, by a new Choice of their Representatives. I am fully persuaded you will agree with Me in Opinion, that the steady Exertion of Our most vigorous Efforts, in every Part where the Enemy may still be attacked with Advantage, is the only Means that can be productive of such a Peace, as may with Reason be expected from Our Successes. It is therefore My fixed Resolution, with your Concurrence and Support, to carry on the War in the most effectual Manner for the Interest and Advantage of My Kingdoms; and to maintain, to the utmost of My Power, the good Faith and Honour of My Crown, by adhering firmly to the Engagements entered into with My Allies. In this I will persevere, until My Enemies, moved by their own Losses and Distresses, and touched with the Miseries of so many Nations, shall yield to the equitable Conditions of an honourable Peace; in which Case, as well as in the Prosecution of the War, I do assure you, no Consideration whatever shall make Me depart from the true Interests of these My Kingdoms, and the Honour and Dignity of My Crown.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I am heartily sorry, that the Necessity of large Supplies appears so clearly from what has already been mentioned. The proper Estimates for the Services of the ensuing Year shall be laid before you; and I desire you to grant Me such Supplies, as may enable Me to prosecute the War with Vigour, and as your own Welfare and Security, in the present critical Conjuncture, require; that We may happily put the last Hand to this great Work. Whatsoever you give, shall be duly and faithfully applied.

I dare say your affectionate Regard for Me and the Queen makes you go before Me in what I am next to mention; the making an adequate and honourable Provision for Her Support in case She should survive Me. This is what not only Her Royal Dignity, but Her own Merit calls for; and I earnestly recommend it to your Consideration.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

I have such a Confidence in the Zeal and good Affections of this Parliament, that I think it quite superfluous to use any Exhortations to excite you to a right Conduct. I will only add, That there never was a Situation in which Unanimity, Firmness and Dispatch were more necessary for the Safety, Honour, and true Interest of Great Britain.

AT the Council Chamber Whitehall, the 7th Day of November, 1761,

PRESENT,

The Lords of His Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council.

This Day His Grace Robert Lord Arch Bishop of York, and the Right Reverend Thomas Lord Bishop of London, were, by His Majesty's Command, sworn of His Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council, and took their Places at the Board accordingly.

Dublin Castle, October 24.

The Houses of Lords and Commons having unanimously resolved upon humble and dutiful Addresses to His Majesty, the same, together with Addresses from both Houses to the Lord Lieutenant, were this Day presented to his Excellency, and, with his Excellency's Answers, are as follow.

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament

Parliament assembled, with all Humility beg Leave to condole with your Majesty, on the Death of your Royal Grandfather, our late most Gracious Sovereign, at a Time when the Welfare of Europe seemed to depend on the Continuance of his Life.

So severe and afflicting a loss must necessarily affect our Hearts with the deepest Sorrow; but we cannot sufficiently acknowledge the Divine Goodness, in having given us a Prince of such exalted Virtues, not only to succeed to the Throne, (your legal Inheritance) but to the Affection and Confidence of your Subjects, as unbounded as the greatest of your Predecessors have ever enjoyed them, and so fully to repair the Loss we should have otherwise have sustained by the Death of so excellent a Prince.

The Commencement of this Parliament with the Accession of a King, bred under the Influence, and formed by the Example of a Prince, who uniformly tempered Prerogative with the Law, and whose Glory it was, in the Exercise of his Power, to protect the Rights and Liberties of his People, affords us Matter of the highest Joy and Satisfaction.

We cannot entertain too grateful a Sense of your Majesty's Goodness in the Assurances you have given us, that your Subjects of this Kingdom are fully and in every Respect comprehended in your Majesty's most gracious Declaration, that the Preservation of the Constitution in Church and State, and the inforcing a due Obedience to the Laws, not more necessary to your own Authority than the Good of the People, shall be the first and constant Object of your Care.

The wise Choice your Majesty has made of a Royal Consort, eminent for her personal Virtues and Endowments, displays, in the clearest Light, your paternal Care not only to preserve, but to transmit to Posterity, the Blessings of your Reign, Liberty, and pure Religion.

We beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that, animated as we are with the warmest Sentiments which Gratitude and Loyalty can inspire, we shall exert ourselves to carry on the Business of the present Sessions in such Manner, as that it may be distinguished by its uninterrupted Harmony and effective Zeal for the Support of the Honour and Dignity of the Crown; which Dispositions we consider as the surest Means, under your Majesty's paternal Influence, of making us an happy, and establishing us an oppulent, and flourishing People.

We have the most grateful Sense of your Majesty's tender Care and Concern for this Kingdom, in having appointed his Excellency the Earl of Halifax our chief Governor, whose distinguished Merit and approved Abilities in the high Station which he filled, give us the fullest Assurance that he will exert himself in promoting the Happiness, and preserving the Tranquility of this Kingdom.

We beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that, sensible as we are of the many Blessings we now enjoy, and have derived from your wise and gracious Administration, and that of the Princes of your Royal House, and most grateful for their strict and uniform Attention to the Preservation of our Laws and Liberties, we shall endeavour to make the fullest Returns of the most affectionate Duty and inviolable Attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person and Government, and shall not cease to implore the Divine Providence for the long Continuance, the Glory and Happiness of your Majesty's Reign.

Hen. Baker Sterne, Cler. Parliamentor.

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Answer.

I Will forthwith transmit this dutiful and affectionate Address, to be laid before His Majesty.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Knights, Citizens and Burgesses, in Parliament assembled.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland, in Parliament assembled, humbly beg Leave to approach your Sacred Person, with Hearts deeply affected for the Loss of our late most excellent Sovereign, whose just and glorious Reign must ever make his Memory dear to a grateful People.

This great, this national Loss, could not be repaired, nor our Grief alleviated, but by your Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne of your Ancestors. The early Virtues which have distinguished your Majesty, and universally procured the Duty, Confidence, and Affection of your Subjects, give us the firmest Assurance of future Happiness, under the Government of a Prince, who, inheriting the Virtues, as well as the Dominions of the best of Kings, makes it His Glory, in the Exercise of His Power, to protect the Rights and Liberties of His People, and lays the Foundation of His own Greatness in the Happiness and Affection of His Subjects.

The tender and affectionate Concern which your Majesty has been pleased to express for our Religion, Laws and Liberties, and your most gracious Declaration, that the Preservation of the Constitution in Church and State, shall be the first and constant Object of your Care, require our most particular and unfeigned Acknowledgments, and are the most convincing Proofs that your Majesty esteems it the most glorious Title of Royalty, to be the common Father of your People

Your Majesty's wise Choice of a Royal Consort, so eminent for her personal Virtues and Endowments, and descended from an House so illustrious for its invariable Zeal for the Protestant Cause, displays, in the clearest Light, your paternal Care, and gives us the surest Hopes, under God, that this Alliance will transmit, unimpaired, to our Posterity, those most valuable Blessings, Liberty and pure Religion.

We beg Leave to express our most hearty Thanks for your Majesty's great Tenderness for your Subjects of Ireland, manifested in so considerable a Saving, as has been made on a Vote of Credit, given by the Commons in the last Session of the late Parliament.

Permit us further to assure your Majesty of our warmest Gratitude for your paternal Care of this Country, in sending his Excellency the Earl of Halifax to be our chief Governor; a most convincing Proof of your Majesty's being sollicitous that we should regulate and improve, which will of course extend, our Trade; and that there should be introduced amongst us, Arts and Sciences most beneficial to Society.

These many and eminent Instances of your Majesty's fixed Attention to our Happiness, must meet with the warmest Return of Affection and Duty, from Subjects not more distinguished by their Regard for the Welfare of their Country, than by their inviolable Loyalty and Gratitude to those Sovereigns from whom they derive their Prosperity and Protection. And we do assure your Majesty, that your faithful Commons will, with the greatest Chearfulness, and most uninterrupted Harmony, concur in every Measure that may contribute to the maintaining of your just Prerogative, and the Glory of your Reign, which we wish may be long over us; and that we will in all our Deliberations exert the most effective Zeal for the Support of the Authority and Dignity of your Majesty's Crown and Government.

E. Sterling,
H. Alcock, } Cler. Dom. Com.

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Answer.

I Will forthwith transmit this dutiful and loyal Address to be laid before His Majesty.

To his Excellency George Dunk Earl of Halifax, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland,

The humble Address of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled.

May it please your Excellency,

WE the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled, return your Excellency our most humble Thanks for your Speech from the Throne, to both Houses of Parliament.

With Hearts full of Loyalty and Gratitude to His Majesty, we acknowledge it, as a Signal Instance of

His

His Majeſty's Royal Attention and Favour to this Kingdom, that he has been graciouſly pleaſed to commit the Government of it to your Excellency's Care.

Your Excellency's diſtinguiſhed Abilities; your extenſive Knowledge, and great Experience, in the Commercial Intereſts of Great Britain; and the Wiſdom and Vigour, with which (under your Excellency's Direction, in your former important Station) thoſe moſt valuable Intereſts, have been ſupported, extended, and ſecured, juſtly intitled your Excellency to every Mark of Reſpect and Gratitude, from all, who then had the Happineſs of being under your immediate Protection.

Thoſe eminent Services, ſo honourably atteſted by ſuch as were beſt qualified to judge of the Merit, and were Principal Sharers in the Benefit of them, could not be unknown to His Majeſty's faithful Subjects of Ireland; nor fail to inſpire them with a particular Veneration for your Excellency's exalted Character.

But high as the Opinion was, which we had before conceived of your Excellency, permit us, My Lord, to ſay, it is now not only confirmed, but improved. The great Attention and Candour with which you have enquired into and conſidered the State of this Kingdom, and the Readineſs and Solicitude you have ſo kindly expreſſed, to promote the publick Welfare, by your Authority, your Credit, and your Experience, gives us a firm Aſſurance, that the greateſt National Benefits will reſult from the Wiſdom of your Excellency's Adminiſtration.

The Improvement of our natural Advantages, the Encouragement of Agriculture, and the Extending of our Manufactures and Commerce, are ſo judiciouſly and earneſtly recommended by your Excellency, and the Utility and Importance of the Proteſtant Charter Schools, are placed before us in ſo ſtrong a Light, that we ſhall be, to the laſt Degree, wanting both to our Duty and Intereſt, if we do not fix our moſt ſerious Attention upon theſe great Objects, and avail ourſelves of your Excellency's Aſſiſtance, to eſtabliſh us, under His Majeſty's paternal Influence, an Opulent, Flouriſhing, Proteſtant People.

To propoſe, to recommend, to facilitate the Means of Publick Happineſs, is a Conduct moſt worthy of your Excellency, which, by thus purſuing the Intention, cannot fail to merit the Approbation of His Majeſty, at the ſame Time that it effectually engages the unbounded Reſpect, the Affections, the Hearts of all His People.

On our Part, animated with the warmeſt Sentiments of Loyalty and Gratitude to our Sovereign, and of Zeal for the Proſperity of our Country, we have nothing more at Heart, than to approve ourſelves to your Excellency, His Majeſty's moſt dutiful Subjects, truly ſenſible of the Bleſſings we enjoy, and careful to promote and extend, to the utmoſt of our Power, the ſame juſt Sentiments, amongſt all our Fellow-Subjects.

In our Proceedings in Parliament, the Reality of theſe Principles will be demonſtrated by the Harmony of our Deliberations, and a chearful Concurrence in every Meaſure which can tend to the Support of the Honour and Dignity of the Crown, the Preſervation of the Conſtitution of this Kingdom, and the Eaſe and Succeſs of your Excellency's Adminiſtration.

Hen. Baker Sterne, Cler. Parliamentor.

My Lords,

I Am highly ſenſible of the Honour your Lordſhips have done me, by your kind and affectionate Addreſs. To deſerve the favourable Opinion you are ſo good as to entertain of me, will be the conſtant Object of my Ambition and my Care; and I am fully ſatisfied, I can never ſo effectually recommend myſelf to you, as by a faithful Execution of His Majeſty's Commands, and a diligent Attention to the Welfare and Proſperity of this Kingdom.

To his Excellency the Earl of Halifax, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland,

The humble Addreſs of the Knights, Citizens, and Burgeſſes, in Parliament aſſembled.

May it pleaſe your Excellency,

WE His Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland, in Parliament aſſembled, return your Excellency our unfeigned Thanks for your moſt excellent Speech from the Throne; and we beg Leave to aſſure your Excellency, that the Commons of this Kingdom never met, with clearer Intentions, or a more ſincere Deſire to ſupport the favourable Opinion which your Excellency has moſt juſtly conceived of the Parliaments of this Kingdom; and to manifeſt their moſt earneſt and unanimous Wiſhes for the Support of His Majeſty's Government, and your Excellency's Adminiſtration.

We perſuade ourſelves, that during your Excellency's Reſidence amongſt us, from your great and extenſive Knowledge and Experience, your ſincere Deſire to encourage, regulate and improve the commercial Affairs of this Kingdom, and your great Zeal to protect the Eſtabliſhed Religion of our Country, you will be entitled to the juſt Reward of an eaſy and happy Government, which we are thoroughly convinced will not be prevented either by publick Heats or private Animoſities.

We ſhall grant the neceſſary Supplies with the greater Chearfulneſs, as we are fully perſuaded, that no Œconomy will be wanting in the Application of them for the Service of the Publick.

The inexpreſſible Loſs which theſe Nations have ſuſtained, by the Demiſe of our late moſt gracious Sovereign, though it moſt ſeverely afflicted us, has been repaired by the Acceſſion of His Majeſty to the Crown of theſe Realms; whoſe Wiſdom in the Government of theſe Kingdoms, and in the happy Choice of a Conſort ſo eminently diſtinguiſhed for every Virtue and Accompliſhment, muſt make all the reſt of Europe envy our Happineſs; of the Continuance of which, we are ſo fully aſſured, by His Majeſty's early and moſt gracious Declaration to all His Subjects.

We ſee, with equal Pleaſure and Admiration, the arduous and important Situation in which your Excellency is placed; and we cannot ſufficiently expreſs our juſt Senſe of your Excellency's noble Intentions for our Service, when you inform us of your invariable Purpoſes of maintaining His Majeſty's Honour, and promoting His Service, while you cannot loſe Sight of thoſe deſirable Objects, the forwarding the Proſperity, and preſerving the Conſtitution of this Kingdom; in which you may be aſſured of the heartieſt Concurrence of the Commons, as we muſt ever look upon the Honour and Service of the Crown, and the true Intereſt and Happineſs of the People, as mutual and inſeparable.

We beg Leave to make our moſt grateful Acknowledgments to your Excellency for your affectionate Wiſh; that the Intereſts of both Kingdoms may be as thoroughly underſtood, as they are inſeparably connected: A Connection, which we conſider as the moſt valuable and honourable to this Kingdom, and which it is ſtrongly our Inclination, as it is clearly our Intereſt, to maintain.

Your Excellency's kind Aſſurances from the Throne leave us no Room to doubt, that every Thing that ought or can be done to promote the Welfare of this Kingdom, will be thoroughly accompliſhed under your Adminiſtration; which Bleſſing we hope His Majeſty will long continue to us: And we hope our Conduct will be ſuch, as may enable your Excellency, upon your Return into the Royal Preſence, truly to repreſent to His Majeſty the Zeal and Unanimity of His Subjects in this Kingdom; as we are perſuaded your Excellency cannot fail to be fully poſſeſſed of the Confidence, Affections, and Hearts, of the People of Ireland.

E. Sterling.
H. Alcock, } Cler. Dom. Com.

His

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Anſwer.

Gentlemen,

I Return you my moſt ſincere Thanks for your kind and affectionate Addreſs. The Profeſſions you have been pleaſed to make, I conſider rather as directed to my Situation than my Perſon; and I look upon this, as one of the many Ways by which you are deſirous to convey your Duty to His Majeſty. It is ſo far only as I have the Honour of repreſenting my Royal Maſter, that I can be in any Manner intitled to receive them; but, in that Light, I muſt declare myſelf highly ſatisfied with ſo pleaſing a Teſtimony of your Loyalty and Gratitude. What I have ſaid, on the Part of the King, you may reſt upon with the moſt perfect Reliance: What I have ſaid, upon my own, you will interpret by my Conduct.

St. James's, November 7.

The following Addreſs of the Mayor and Burgeſſes of the Corporation of Chriſt Church in the County of Hants, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Hon. Thomas Robinſon and James Harris, Eſqrs. their Repreſentatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majeſty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor and Burgeſſes of the ancient Corporation of Chriſt Church in the County of Hants.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt loyal and dutiful Subjects, the Mayor and Burgeſſes of the ancient Corporation of Chriſt Church, beg Leave, with the moſt profound Humility and Reſpect, to congratulate your Majeſty on your late happy Nuptials with a Proteſtant Princeſs, our preſent moſt gracious Queen.

As we have the deepeſt Senſe of the many and valuable Benefits accruing to us from this great and and deſirable Event; with Hearts full of Gratitude we wiſh your Majeſty, and your Royal Conſort, every Felecity in Return; and promiſe, on our own Parts, the moſt unfeigned Attachment, and laſting Loyalty, to your Majeſty's Government and Sacred Perſon.

Given under our Common Seal this twenty-ſecond Day of October, 1761.

The following Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Knights of the Shire, Juſtices of the Peace, Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Oxford, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Sir Charles Price, High Sheriff of the ſaid County, being introduced by the Lord of His Majeſty's Bed Chamber in Waiting: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Knights of the Shire, Juſtices of the Peace, Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Oxford, aſſembled at the General Quarter Seſſions of the Peace holden for the ſaid County, on the Sixth Day of October, in the Firſt Year of your Majeſty's Reign, and in the Year of our Lord, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty one, and of other Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders not preſent at the ſaid Seſſions.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE beg leave to congratulate your Majeſty upon your auſpicious Marriage with her Highneſs the Princeſs of Mecklenberg, our now moſt gracious Queen. Such an Alliance, ſo wiſely formed, and ſo happily carried into Execution, is a very high and intereſting Event; will ſweeten your Royal Cares, and give a general and univerſal Joy to all your Subjects. Not content with the Glories of a mild and juſt Adminiſtration; not content with giving us Plenty at Home, and Succeſſes Abroad, your Majeſty is pleaſed to extend your Views to Futurity; and we hope will make Poſterity happy, by a long Succeſſion of Princes in your illuſtrious Houſe. It has been the Felicity of your Majeſty's Reign to make Diſcord ceaſe, and to diffuſe a Spirit of Union through all your Subjects; and we are now taught to improve the Duties of domeſtic and ſocial Life; and made Happy, Wiſe, and Good, by Royal Example. Long may your Majeſty reign over an affectionate, obedient, and united People, who have nothing more to wiſh, but the Continuance of their preſent Happineſs, and who ardently implore the Bleſſings of Heaven upon the beſt of Sovereigns, our moſt beloved, and patriot King.

The following Addreſs of the Juſtices of the Peace for the County of Kent, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Hon. Robert Fairfax, Eſq; and Sir Wyndham Knatchbull Wyndham, Bart. their Repreſentatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majeſty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of your Majeſty's Juſtices of the Peace, aſſembled at their General Quarter Seſſions of the Peace for the County of Kent, on the 6th Day of October, 1761.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects beg Leave to congratulate your Majeſty on your moſt auſpicious Nuptials with a Princeſs, deſcended from an Houſe ſo eminently diſtinguiſhed in the Cauſe of Proteſtantiſm and of Liberty, and whoſe Perſonal Virtues add Luſtre to your Throne.

May your Majeſty long continue a Bleſſing to theſe Nations: And may there never be wanting a Succeſſion of Princes from this happy Union, to fill the Throne of theſe Kingdoms to the lateſt Poſterity.

Magdebourg, Oct. 24. The King of Pruſſia continued, when we laſt heard from Sileſia, in his Camp of Strehlen, and General Laudohn in that of Freybourg. On the 19th of this Month, General Botta was ſent with a Thouſand Waggons laden with Infantry, to make an Attempt on the Fortreſs of Koſel, which however did not ſucceed, as he found General Latorff, Commandant of that Place, alert, and upon his Guard.

Prince Henry ſtill remains in the Camp at Schlettau, and the Motions of Marſhal Daun, and General Laſcy, have produced no Effect. The Swedes ſeem to have finiſhed their Campaign, having paſſed the the Peyne at Anclam, and the Oder at Commin; both which Places they have evacuated.

The Groſs of the Ruſſian Fleet is retired from before Colberg, but ſome few Veſſels ſtill block up that Place; and General Romanzow, though he has embarked his heavy Artillery, remains in his entrenched Camp, oppoſite to General Platen.

Liege, Oct. 26. This Day a Battalion of French Guards arrived here, returning to France; they have ſuffered very much by Sickneſs and Want of Proviſions ſince they took the Field.

Tongres, Oct. 28. The four Companies of the Gardes du Corps, which are the laſt of the King's Houſehold, are paſſed by here in their Way to Bruſſels; they are in general very ill mounted, having loſt a great Number of Horſes in the Field; and the Reſt are ruined by Fatigues, and Want of Forage, &c.

Hague, Oct. 30. Marſhal Broglio continued ſtill on the 26th Inſtant, in the ſame Poſition, encamped and cantoned between the Leine and Weſer. He had a Corps upon the Fulda, and another upon the Dymel. They have demoliſhed the Caſtle of Schartzfeldt; and given Orders for levelling the Walls of Duderſtadt; and are now employed in collecting a great Quantity of Forage in the Parts where they are at preſent.

Prince Ferdinand's Head Quarters were ſtill at Ohr on the 26th: His Troops are in Part encamped; and in Part cantoned between the Emmer, the Hamel, and the Innerte, with a Detachment upon the Lippe. It is probable that this latter occaſioned the Prince of Soubize's ſuſpending for a little the Diſlocation of his Army, which, it is ſtill aſſured, is entering into Winter Quarters. The Prince of Soubize is at preſent at Weſel, but ſoon expected at Duſſeldorp. Several Battalions and Squadrons of his Army are ordered back to France, beſides the Houſehold Troops. The Gendarmerie is to be quartered in the Biſhoprick of Liege.

It is confirmed, that the Accounts publiſhed of the Magazines belonging to the Allied Army, ſaid to be deſtroyed by the French in Weſtphalia and Eaſt Friezland, are greatly exaggerated; nothing being more certain, than that the Allies had nothing of any great Conſequence in thoſe Parts.

We are ſtill without any material News from Sileſia. The Pruſſians did not ſucceed in getting a large Convoy into Colberg, which had been prepared by the Prince of Bevern at Stettin, the Ruſſians having diſperſed and deſtroyed the greateſt Part of it.
